Network News

Congratulations to Helen Bingham who has won the HEE staff recognition award for ensuring access to evidence.

Great to see the LKS teams in Bucks, Bath, Cornwall, Isle of Wight and Oxford Health have had national impact case studies published.

We still have a few places left for the Health Literacy Training on Wednesday December 5th in Bristol.

The model for training is:

- Initial health literacy awareness training session with minimum 15 and maximum 25 people to be co-delivered by the Community Health and Learning Foundation and HEE. Delegates will be LKS personnel, but are not necessarily LKS managers.
- Activity between sessions: a ‘health literacy friendly’ audit of an NHS library and knowledge service.
- Note: attendees who have attended the first session but do not go on to become trainers would be expected to start to apply their health literacy awareness skills, setting up local partnerships, reviewing signage in their services and supporting colleagues to have health-literate friendly conversations and use appropriate range of resources.
- Train-the-trainer training with 8 people per region, committed to cascade, co-delivered by Community Health and Learning Foundation and HEE - NOW FULL

If interested then please let Sue know sue.robertson@hee.nhs.uk
As we continue to prepare for Knowvember

- Check out the padlet wall and upload your pledges https://padlet.com/knowvember/2018
- Join the KM COP km@libraryservices.nhs.uk and share your ideas
- Pick up hints and tips from last Jan-Feb edition of Swimming Pool https://southlks.libguides.com/lks/home
- Use the postcards
- Follow and join the Twitter campaign #Knowvember18

Don’t forget to book a place on the Quality Improvement (QI) webinars. The webinars are a basic introduction to QI and will help prepare for the new Quality Improvement Standards (LQIS) in 2019.

Library Assistants – Wednesday 28th November 2.00pm
Librarians – Thursday 29th November 2.00pm

To book, e-mail southmead.library@nbt.nhs.uk with “LIBRARIAN Quality Improvement” or “LIBRARY ASSISTANT Quality Improvement” as the heading. Please include your contact details and library code.

Knowledge for Healthcare

Regional leads meeting - highlights

- We are planning a new website for LKS staff. This will bring together the contents of the existing libraryservices.nhs.uk and kfh.libraryservices.nhs.uk sites and, in future, integrate regional and network sites. The aim is to create a new and flexible platform, which meets the needs of the healthcare library community, and reduces the costs and duplication associated with maintaining multiple separate sites. The responses you gave to the website requirements survey informed our specification of the functionality and features required. Richard Bridgen is leading this exciting project on behalf of HEE. Please contact Richard if you have queries. He would be particularly keen to hear from anyone who currently manages a local/network/group site for library staff.

- We continue to maintain oversight of upcoming organisational mergers and emerging integrated care systems, and the opportunities these present for closer collaboration between local library services. We want to make sure that you are all aware of the Greater Collaboration Toolkit which has been created by group of librarians with experience of redesigning services in response to organisational changes.

- As mentioned in a recent conversation thread on lis-medical, we are currently verifying the data we have collected about local library service provision to CCGs (also local authority public health teams, AHSNs and local offices of national organisations). We very much appreciate your help in sharing details so that we can maintain an accurate overall picture of the extent to which different elements of the NHS workforce are supported by library services.

New post on the blog - A directory to end all directories!

#Knowvember18 Pledge Wall - Don't forget to check the pledge wall for inspiration and to make your own Knowvember pledge if you haven't already
General Training and Development

Transcript available from October ukmedlibs twitter chat

EAHIL Council nominations

Updated agenda Measuring and Evaluating the Impact of Health Information event - Monday 19 November 2018

CILIP

CILIP’s New Ethical Framework

Delivering information to patients and the public - still some places left

LILAC bursaries: claim yours now!

Resources

Open Access Week

New post on MAP Community - General Practice Forward View

7 Shortcuts for Working with Worksheet Tabs in Excel

Facet October e-bulletin

New post on MAP Community - Key questions for the future of STPs and ICSs

Newsletters, Briefings, Reports, Articles and Guidance

Department of Health & Social Care: Policy paper - The future of healthcare: our vision for digital, data and technology in health and care

New post on NLPN - Interview: Phil Gorman, Technical Services Librarian at the House of Commons

Rapid Responses from LKS staff to "Cannabis based drugs: GPs will have to manage patients’ expectations, says expert"

Thank a Medical Librarian

Subscribe to the NHS Jobs newsletter

PIF Aware 19 October 2018: Co-production; ‘Moving Medicine’; Multimorbidity; ‘Every Mind Matters’; Patient centricity; Tech vision; Personalised care

IRUS-UK collaboration: consistent, comparable usage statistics to demonstrate the growth of OA

Journal of Hospital Librarianship

Journal of Academic Librarianship

Breakthrough Technologies in Knowledge Management
Forthcoming Meetings and Events

The next #ukmedlibs chat takes place at 8 pm on Tuesday 20th November 2018. The theme is discovery tools.

Check out the calendar on our Libguides homepage.